Chamber asks for $98,720

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has asked county council for $98,720 to support its activities during 1983. The request was made at the February 16 meeting of the council.

Last year the Chamber received $50,000 from the county.

Chamber director Ken Langdon outlined the organization's requirements in a presentation which included an explanation of where the funds would be spent. The councillors were also shown a film, prepared by the provincial government, outlining the importance of tourism in local economies.

The spokesman outlined how the Chamber's funds were spent in 1982 and what was expected this year.

The request for funds was broken down into a number of areas of concern.

The Chamber's marketing budget, which would require financial support from the county, would involve special seminars to acquaint members with methods of doing business in tough economic times; a campaign to ensure once visitors arrive in the Highlands that they are treated "royally"; and a campaign to encourage people to deal with county businesses. Included in the last program would be the sale of special discount coupon books. It is expected that revenue of $6500 from the discount book would support the costs of the other activities in this sector.

The Tourist and Convention Bureau marketing budget will require a contribution of $28,220 from county council according to the program mapped out by the Chamber. Under the program, special emphasis would be placed on preparing information to attract visitors to the area. This would include the distribution of inquiry cards throughout a series of racks located in supermarkets in the Metro area, printing of various guides and maps, and publications to attract convention business to the area. While some of the activities are expected to generate revenue, the estimate was $27,000, the Chamber has indicated it would like to

Townships twin promotion effort

A co-operative venture which will see the municipalities of Anson, Hindon and Minden and Lutterworth join forces in a promotion effort has been initiated. The idea, which would see the development of a parkette in Lutterworth Township, was endorsed at the February 17 meeting of that municipality's council.

Councillor Gary Kenney of Anson, Hindon and Minden had proposed the parkette at the municipal meeting the week previously and was directed to take the idea to the Lutterworth council meeting.

He was given an enthusiastic response from the Lutterworth council members, particularly from Reeve Ron Gambell.

Gambell said when contacted Tuesday that it was "a super idea" and that he had been pushing the same idea for about three years. Unfortunately, the previous council was not as receptive as the present council in Minden.

"The thing is to slow the traffic down," said the reeve. "Going through that stretch on 35 is kind of blah."

Lutterworth council had already had input on a number of locations including six or seven acres of municipal land across from the Forest Echo Motel. "We made it plain we want to start it right now," Gambell added.

Council appointed the reeve and Bill Prentice to sit on the joint committee.

Snowarama raises $14,000

Despite a two week delay and an exceptionally mild winter, the Minden Rotary Club's Snowarama was a success. The event, held Saturday saw 67 riders helping to raise over $14,000 for crippled children in Ontario.

This was the ninth year for the Snowarama in the province and local organizer, Lionel Walker, was concerned that the club would have problems raising the support it received in past years. The economic strains were one concern, but the lack of snow also raised some doubts as to whether the run could be held at all. It was originally scheduled for February 9 but had to be delayed two weeks when it was determined the trails were not in good enough shape at that time.

Riders participating in the Saturday run reported that the trail, which went north into Stanhope Township and returned to the starting point at the Minden arena, was in relatively good shape. Some areas, especially on inclines, lacked adequate snow cover, but overall the riders said the trails were in reasonable shape.

Bill Seedhouse of Mississauga, who has been the leading pledge collector in the past, once again did an excellent job of garnering funds for the run. Travelling with his son, Chris, he turned in $4700 worth of pledges.

The second highest pledge total was submitted by Del Taylor of Beaverton who registered over $1400.

"We are very pleased with the day," commented Walker. "Not only was the ride a financial success, but the riders enjoyed themselves while helping to raise money for crippled children."

Gasoline for the machines used in the run was donated by Shell fuel dealer Sid Stamp of Minden.

Eakins heads rural task force

Victoria - Haliburton M.P.P. John Eakins has been named to head a task force to study problems faced by rural municipalities in the 1980's.

Ontario Liberal Leader David Peterson announced the formation of the task force at a recent meeting of the rural section of the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO). Peterson told the group that the task force plans to hold meetings across the province to meet with municipal officials and discuss areas of concern to the rural municipalities.

Among the areas to be explored are methods of keeping skilled labour in rural areas, improving transportation and communication between Ontario's rural communities and developing a policy of locating new industries where they are most beneficial to rural communities. The task force will also deal with the problem of many rural municipalities that are facing financial difficulties because of cutbacks in revenue.

Peterson told the meeting that bridging the gap between urban and rural municipalities in Ontario is vital to the province's economy.

"John has an excellent background in these issues," Peterson said, explaining why Eakins was named to head the task force. "I am sure that his committee will bring forward many positive recommendations."

Warm weather causes sap to start flowing

The recent spell of mild weather has at least one maple syrup producer running to catch up with Mother Nature.

Wally Crofts, who operates a sugar bush in Minden township, has started to tap his trees, although some of his equipment is not yet ready to process the sap. "We should be ready to start in two days," Crofts commented earlier this week.

"The season generally begins in the middle of March, around the 17th to 20th," Crofts noted. "But this has been a strange winter and the warm weather of the past few weeks has helped to speed the process."

The producer noted that the strong February thaw of two years ago resulted in a similar sap flow.

He pointed out that if the frost is deep in the ground, it could be a while before the sap starts to run in full force. If, on the other hand, there is not much frost in the ground, the run could start soon and, if there is a strong warm sun, it could push the trees to budding, marking the end of the syrup season.

"The sap we tested is not too sweet at this time," Crofts noted. "But it should change as the season lengthens, growing sweeter."

Since the syrup producer relies on a pipeline system to bring the sap to the processing shed, he has been busy the past few days tapping the trees and stringing the pipeline. Getting his equipment ready to process the sap also takes several days.

Crofts was selected last year as one of a number of maple syrup producers in Ontario to test a new mechanical process for removing water from the sap. The process, which forces the sap through a membrane which allows sugar molecules to pass through but not water, greatly reduces the amount of fuel needed to make the syrup. The high cost of fuel, oil is used mainly in modern operations, has affected the industry in the past number of years.

Crofts stated that he was pleased with the operation of the processor last year and will be continuing to use the system this season.

Dwain Wruth, another Haliburton county processor, said that he had not yet started to tap trees in his bush although he has seen evidence that the sap is starting to flow. He said it could be a while before he begins extracting the sap from the maple trees.

Warm weather has started the flow of sap in Highlands maple forests.

Chamber seeks county support with funding spend $55,220, resulting in the need for additional funds from the county.

- Administration of the Tourist and Convention Bureau was estimated at $39,000, $11,000 more than last year. According to the budget presentation, the funds would be needed because the organization will be absorbing the cost of the Economic Development Commission which has been formally disbanded and whose responsibilities will be carried out by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

As well, the increased administration budget reflects the increase in payroll, up six percent and the addition of another full-time staff member at the Chamber office.

It was pointed out in the Chamber's report that no allowance has been made for a new building for the organization. Repairs and additions to the building, carried out over the past year, have been split between the 1982 and 1983 budgets. The report suggests that a separate building fund should be established to meet the needs of a new building.

The extras

The combined marketing and administration budget of the tourist and convention bureau amounts to $67,220. This compares with $52,950 spent last year.

However, the Chamber presentation then identified a number of "extras" which the Chamber has said it would like to undertake and could do so with the financial backing of the county council. Among these are the following items:

- $35,000 for the airing of weather reports on radio stations in key market areas. Earlier in the report it was indicated that the cost effectiveness of the program, which is already underway, has not been determined. The report states, "these reports will be considered only if we can convince more stations to participate."

- $1500 for preparation of a five year master plan for marketing the county. This would be prepared by consultants and updated each year.

- $5000 for market research to help identify how this area is perceived by those the Chamber is attempting to attract.

- $4500 for television advertising designed to promote winter business. The Chamber is looking into the use of C.K.V.R. in Barrie and C.K.C.O. Kitchener for this promotion.

- $1000 for changeable signs to be inserted in the side of county trucks advertising various aspects of the county.

- $16,000 for field signing. This would cover ten signs outside Metro Toronto promoting the Highlands.

The total cost of these "extras" would be $31,000 raising the Chamber's request to $98,720.

Following the presentation by Langdon, Anson, Hindon and Minden deputy reeve Ed Pergolas questioned the speaker as to the official title of the Chamber. Langdon replied that it was the "Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce."

Pergolas then pointed out that throughout his presentation Langdon had referred to the organization as the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce, omitting the reference to the county.

Membership fees and Chamber earnings will cover the operation of the Chamber of Commerce. Last year this amounted to $65,000.

The Chamber's request for assistance will be studied by the county council's budget committee. Their decision will be announced at the March meeting.

Man charged after sale of phony joints

A Minden man who was alleged to be passing off cigarettes containing tobacco and ordinary tea leaves to local high school students has been charged with trafficking in a narcotic.

Charged is 23 year old Grant Porter, of Minden.

According to an OPP report, Porter had sold the phony cigarettes to students at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, purporting them to contain marijuana. Porter was charged because it is illegal to traffic in a narcotic or any substance held out to be a narcotic.

OPP Constables Al Bibby and Dennis Potter are investigating.

Youths sentenced

A series of thefts and breakins in the Minden area have resulted in the sentencing of two Ingoldsby youths. Timothy Eastman, 19, was sentenced to a total of 18 months in prison for his part in a wave of crimes in and around the Minden area in 1982. The offences included assault with a club on a local youth, theft of a pickup truck, damage of a new house in Ingoldsby, a breakin at the County Roads department building. Eastman had been apprehended after the theft of a 1982 model car which led to a police chase through Minden. The car and the police cruiser were both damaged in the chase.

Eastman was also placed on probation for three years and was ordered to obtain treatment for alcohol abuse. His driver's licence was suspended for three years.

The second youth, 16 year old Timothy Beaver, received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for two years for his part in some of the offences.

Watch for the Grizzlies

"Grizzlies" are reported to be moving into the Miserable Lake area north of Kinmount Canadian Armed Forces "Grizzlies," that is.

The Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, a militia unit based in Hamilton, as part of Hamilton militia district, will be conducting special winter combat training around Miserable Lake, about ten miles south of Haliburton the weekend of February 25-27.

About 75 R.H.L.I. soldiers, including members of their cadet corps, armed with rifles, machine guns and plenty of blank ammunition, will take part in the Exercise "Polar Picnic III." As well, four of the new General Purpose Armoured Vehicles called the "Grizzly", a large, six-wheeled armoured fighting vehicle, will be used. Weather permitting, C.H. - 136 "Kiowa" helicopters from 400 Squadron, and Air Reserve unit from Toronto, will fly in support of the exercise.

The exercise, designed to practice winter combat patrolling techniques, will pit 40 members of the Regiment against the "enemy" - the remaining 35 soldiers, will be entrenched near Miserable Lake.

On Sunday, February 27, the "Rileys" will break camp and route-march ten miles into Kinmount. There, the public is invited to a two hour display of the Regiment's equipment, including the four "Grizzlies", at the Royal Canadian Legion 441. In return, the Legion is hosting a lunch for the troops. The display starts at 1 p.m.

At 3:30, it's on the trucks for the long ride back to Hamilton.

Looking at rural municipalities

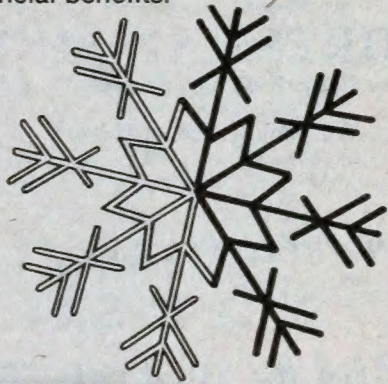

It has long been the contention of rural municipalities, similar to those in Haliburton County, that the provincial government tends to ignore their needs. Certainly, the efforts of these smaller political units to gain the ear of the authorities in obtaining improvements funds appear to often be ignored.

The province, of course, does have a responsibility to the larger urban centre. However these communities also benefit from a lucrative local tax base that includes extensive industrial and commercial assessment. Rural municipalities by their nature, must rely on residential and restricted commercial taxes to finance their basic services.

The problem is compounded by the large number of small municipalities which exist. Competing for the attention of the provincial politicians, can be a difficult task, especially when other small political units are seeking similar benefits and consideration.

We are pleased to note that Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins will head a task force to examine these and other problems related to rural municipalities. His experience as a representative of this provincial riding will serve him well in assessing the problems and suggesting solutions. While we realize his efforts will not carry the imprimatur of the government of the day, and therefore will probably not result in immediate improvements, it is still a worthwhile exercise.

We can only hope the province is willing to accept the findings of the Liberal study group and starts to give rural municipalities a better share of the provincial benefits.

Deaths under study

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Once more the mysterious deaths of 28 babies in the cardiac ward of the Hospital for Sick Children are in the news. Liberal MPP Sheila Copps raised the matter in the Legislature following receipt from an anonymous sender of an internal study by experts at the hospital.

The report indicates that critical digoxin tests used by police may have been highly misleading, because high digoxin levels found in exhumed bodies cannot be linked to foul play by the tests alone. Her call for a public inquiry into the matter was further dramatized when it was announced a few days after her statement that the police investigation into the deaths had been ended.

The long-awaited report on the deaths of infant heart patients has been completed, and the Minister of Health has stated that the Attorney-General will decide whether the report will be made public.

Education Bill
In protest against the controversial Bill 127 - the Metro education bill, more than 300 parents and children filled the public galleries of the Legislature, and overflowed into nearby hallways. A government move to cut off debate brought stiff opposition from the other two parties.

The first time the provincial government used closure was to end debate on the government's purchase of 25 per cent of Suncor. Time allocations were again brought into force last fall to end debate on the restraint program. The education bill marks the third time. Commented columnist Orland French of Toronto's "Globe and Mail", "It took nearly 39 years to bring in closure. It (the government) listened to weeks of debate before allocating time on the

letters

Editor:

I noticed in The Times that Mr. Kenney is suggesting different ways to improve our town and I think some of his ideas are very good. What about the roads around town, they are a disgrace and have been ever since the sewers were put in. How long will we have to endure them like this? Will the next step be the paving? If so I hope they can do it before we are half buried in dust in the spring and early summer.

Florence Robinson,
Minden.

Editor:

A letter published in The Times February 2 has attracted my attention. I find nothing ironic (as Mr. Thomas says), in the situation. I sympathise with the Minden Minor Hockey Association regarding their loss of player enrolment, but I do not think they have the right to have an absolute stranglehold on players who have aspirations of playing a higher level of hockey.

As for releases, to my knowledge I am the first player to have applied to the M.M.H.A. and been refused outright. As I have said, I sympathise with the M.M.H.A. situation, but if all minor hockey associations felt this way, what would happen to Ontario's great junior league system?

With my O.M.H.A. appeal came a decision which I felt showed little if any logic in it at all. In a letter I received from an O.M.H.A. appeal board, all I was told was that they supported the local association. If I had known in advance of their "pass the buck logic" I would not have paid the $25.00 appeal fee to begin with. I then launched an appeal with the O.H.A. When I attended the O.H.A. tribunal in Toronto, we (my parents and myself), were told that the O.M.H.A. had been informed of my appeal and had the right to attend. The three tribunal board members also told us that the O.M.H.A. was to inform the M.M.H.A. of the appeal, if they so chose. The O.H.A. tribunal board members assumed that both the O.M.H.A. and the M.M.H.A. chose not to attend.

Mr. Thomas has stated that only one side of the story was heard and this is not true. At the appeal I presented all letters of correspondence between myself and the O.M.H.A. The three members of the tribunal then reviewed the case in private for approximately half an hour and then called me back in and informed me that my argument in favour of my release was more convincing than those of either the O.M.H.A. or the M.M.H.A. At no time did the tribunal - as

Weather favours Haliburton Winter Carnival

The weather co-operated with the Haliburton Rotary Club, organizers of the fifteenth Haliburton Winter Carnival. The mercury hovered around the freezing mark during the festivities, enticing large crowds to attend the event.

The events for the weekend included the Chalkdusters hockey tournament, crowning the carnival queen, snowmobile races on Head Lake, racing on the giant slalom course at Sir Sam's, the popular lumbermen's show, the spaghetti dinner, the Royal Canadian Legion's Carnival Dance and a dart tournament.

There were adult and family snowmobile trips, a 25 kilometre cross country ski rally, the Trapper's breakfast and Haliburton's first Trans Atlantic Dart Tournament at the Legion, playing darts by long-distance telephone with teams from the Red Lion Pub in Deadman's Cross, England and a host of other events.

by Bob Stinson

At the February 16 meeting of County Council it was agreed that a commemorative coin should be struck to celebrate the inaugural year of our full fledged county status. The Chamber is pleased to be a working partner with the county on this program and it will be our job to see that the 10,000 coins are distributed. The coins will be worth $1.00 within the county until the end of 1983, after which they will likely become even more valuable as collectors items.

The coin design will carry the County crest on one side, which incidentally is derived from the family coat of arms of Thomas Chandler Haliburton after whom the county was named. The other side will carry a head and shoulders likeness of Chief Justice Haliburton and the inscription "Provisional County of Haliburton, est 1874" and "Ontario's Newest County 1983".

Ten coins will be "mint marked" with an intentional flaw, making them worth $25.00 to anyone who finds one. These will be mixed in at random with the 10,000 coins and they could show up anywhere. Advance orders may be placed for some coins to be minted in fine silver at $25.00 each if received prior to the date of minting.

We are sure all of you will want a souvenir of this very momentous year in the development of our county and we look forward to making these coins available in co-operation with the county.

Province sells "awareness"

In conjunction with the Chamber's annual budget presentation last week at County Council is a new film just produced by the Ministry of Tourism was shown to members by Ministry consultant Mike Walker. The film is specifically designed to impress municipal planners, officials and council members with just what a broad impact tourism has on any local economy and how important it is for the community to support this industry. The film is an excellent one and we hope that we can get it again so that more of you can see it because everyone, not just our elected representatives, should be made more fully aware of the message it carries.

In his accompanying remarks Mike Walker stated that in 1981 tourism visitation to Haliburton County amounted to 2.3 million person trips and that direct tourism expenditures are estimated at 76 million dollars. Anyone who doubts that tourism is important to our county should be impressed by those figures. He agreed that we are getting an excellent return on the investment we are making in promotion of tourism and felt that if at all possible we should be doing more.

The province will spend this year 21.5 million dollars to promote tourism in Ontario. That budget has been increased by 13% over 1982 because in spite of the restraint measures being taken in government, tourism promotion is recognized as one way to stimulate a sluggish economy. The next level of promotion is the Central Ontario Travel Association with whom we work very closely. They have been working with a $35,000.00 administration grant and a $50,000.00 promotional grant from the province. Word has just been received that their promotional grant has been increased by 40% to $70,000.00. This will allow for a considerable expansion of their marketing plan.

The Chamber's presentation to council showed our budget being broken into 4 sections. The administration budget, which of course is necessary to form the base from which to operate, the Chamber marketing budget, which is self sustaining, and the Tourist & Convention Bureau Marketing plan which will require just over 50% county funding, and the optional extras if funds are available. The "optional extras" should not be viewed as less important because they are classified as "extras" but they have been separated because as promotional tools they may or may not be implemented independently if funds are available without disrupting the overall marketing plan that has been created.

The county budget committee will consider the plans we have presented and present their recommendations to the next council meeting on March 16.

EDC stays with Chamber

The county and the Chamber have agreed that there is not enough activity presently taking place to merit supporting a separate budget. The E.D.C. will continue to operate as a committee of the Chamber and its administration will be absorbed by the Chamber's administration budget. There will, however, no longer be funds available to have Jack Fleming continue to visit and advise business owners on their expansion or financial concerns, and this service is no longer available.

This change certainly does not imply that we or the county have given up on attracting new industry to the county, but it does reflect our priorities at a time when every dollar spent must have a reasonable chance of showing a return.

The Chamber's committee will certainly endeavour to build on the past efforts of the E.D.C. and would be pleased to hear from anyone that has a concern we can help with. Call the Chamber office at 286-1760.

Small towns are growing

"The average small town is growing," says Professor Gerald Hodge in a paper presented to delegates at The New Neighbourhood, a conference on housing and community development sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing.

Professor Hodge, director of the school of urban and regional planning, Queen's University, presented his findings to a seminar titled The Small Town: It's Prospects and Planning.

According to Hodge's research, "the total population of Canada's small towns grew by 443,000 in the 1960's to 3.9 million and in the 1970's ... another 500,000 were added." He also claims housing stock increased by "an astounding 25 per cent in each decade...in all the regions of Canada."

This good news is underlined by the fact that 80 per cent of all centres in Canada added new retail firms. Hodge goes on to state that "commercial growth currently is exceeding population in its rate of increase."

While admitting that growth rates may not be huge - studies put them at about 10 per cent - Hodge is emphatic that the small town in Canada is alive and well.

The reasons for this revitalization are hard to pinpoint. An American researcher attributes much of it to the "new three R's - Resources, Recreation, Retirement." As an example, Hodge cited the case of Canmore, Alta. Fifty years ago it was a busy mining town, now its economy is based on tourism and recreation.

Most important of all, says Hodge, is the "optimism and indomitable spirit" of the small town population. There are many illustrations of this. Hodge used the little Ottawa Valley village of Forfar, which, faced with the prospect of the closing of its 120-year old cheese factory, fought back and won. The community rallied and managed to re-open the factory. Today it employs 14 people and sells cheese the world over.

Hodge concluded his speech by remarking upon the need for "a more flexible, direct, case-by-case approach ... for land use regulation in small towns and villages." Solutions imposed by centrally-located agencies tend to be regarded with suspicion, stated Hodge. "It cannot be said too forcefully that solutions to small town planning problems should be small town solutions."

Government wants another $5 billion

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

The Finance Minister has just asked the House of Commons to approve a new Borrowing Authority Bill. It would give the Government authority to borrow an additional $5 billion to meet its financial requirements up to the end of this fiscal year. This represents a cash over expenditure of almost 20% based on last October's prediction. The Government has, since June 1982, escalated our debt load to $26.1 billion. No one is surprised, as this has been expected for a few months now.

What was unexpected is that they also asked for authority to borrow funds for the next fiscal year beginning in April. This without even giving an accounting for the first $5 billion they require for this year. The Minister of Finance refuses to say why it is necessary to have this funding approved in advance. He simply said that it would tide the Government over "for the first few months while people will consider the budget" that he proposes to introduce before April 1. Is this to give the Liberals time to stage a leadership convention? Possibly, the real answer is that they do not want anything controversial in the budget which could be debated in the course of a budget debate. In any case, the Minister of Finance does not feel Canadians need to know why he is asking for authority to borrow billions of dollars on their behalf.

On the other hand, last fall I received many letters from Old Age Security recipients complaining that their Social Insurance Number was now showing in the clear window of the envelope enclosing their cheque. Quite rightly, they requested I raise this problem with the Minister of Health and Welfare. The response I received was that this might have occurred in a few cases by computer error and that other methods of addressing cheques would be investigated. This seemed like a legitimate answer, as I am sure that while computers do not make mistakes on their own, sometimes their programmers do and as long as it was corrected, as I was assured it would be, no long term damage would be done.

Now we see that this error was not done in only a few cases, but has produced the greatest disuse of Social Insurance Numbers ever seen. All personalized income tax forms have your Social Insurance Number printed on them and can be seen in the envelope window. Not only that, but your average 1979-81 income is also on the form. It appears the Government realizes that, as stated by the Privacy Commission, "no law whatsoever exists to protect the Social Insurance Number" despite their statements that this was not done intentionally. If it was a programming error then why wasn't it corrected before the forms were sent out? Obviously, the Government does not think it matters who knows your personal Social Insurance Number or income.

Incidentally, when our P.C. Government was defeated in 1979, a Government bill was ready for introduction which would have restricted the use of Social Insurance Numbers and prevented this kind of occurrence.

These actions highlight the fact that the current philosophy of the Government seems to be that what they do should be private information whereas what the individual does should be public information. That is backwards in my books.

restraint bill. But it brought in time allocations on Bill 127 even before final debate began. Like murder, it gets easier every time."

Farm auction

The Minister of Agriculture indicated he wasn't surprised when 500 cheering farmers took over a farm liquidation sale in Palmerston recently. The farmers had chased away a bank-appointed auctioneer and sold $100,000 worth of agricultural equipment for $19.81, and members of the Canadian Farmers Survival Association said they will lease the machinery back to the bankrupt farmer for $1 a year so that he can continue working his 200 acre beef farm.

Liberal farm critic Jack Riddell (Huron-Middlesex) warned in the Legislature that the Palmerston flare-up is "just one of many bushfires we are going to see across the province." He called upon the Minister to develop low-interest rate programs.

School reunion

South Grenville District High School in Prescott will be holding its 25th anniversary on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 1-2-3, and would like to extend to residents of this area who are former students or staff an invitation to come back to SGDHS and spend the holiday weekend with their high school friends.

Our committee has finalized plans for the three day event which include: registration, school tours, barbeques, golf tournament, wine and cheese party, dinner, dances, pancake breakfasts, rededication and ecumenical services.

Registration forms for these events as well as a special anniversary yearbook, may be obtained by writing to Beth Morris, SGDHS 25th Anniversary, P.O. Box 670, Prescott, Ontario. KOE 1T0.

Mr. Thomas puts it - believe that there was a member of the M.M.H.A. executive in attendance at the tribunal. The tribunal assumed that the M.M.H.A. chose not to be present. Neither I, nor my parents would stoop so low as to impersonate a member of the M.M.H.A. and I resent the fact that Mr. Thomas has so insinuated in his letter. Also the M.M.H.A., or for that matter the O.M.H.A., are not groups that should talk about democratic processes as Mr. Thomas also stated. The M.M.H.A. was even reluctant to hear my original appeal with me present and the O.M.H.A. would not have me present at all unless I paid them $100.00. At least the O.H.A. had the willingness to inform me of the date and time of the appeal board and allowed me to appear to state my case. This gives me the impression that the O.H.A. is a classy organization which is more than I can say for both the O.M.H.A. and the M.M.H.A.

I have but one more point to make regarding Mr. Thomas's letter. He states that a few must suffer for the benefit of many. I definitely did not benefit. I finished up playing less than one third of a frustrating season because of the dictatorial stand taken by both the M.M.H.A. and the O.M.H.A. But having proved my case, other kids who in the future find themselves in the same situation can be assured that all is not hopeless and that maybe they will receive what they set out to achieve. Isn't that what hockey is all about; trying to achieve what you set out to accomplish?

by Ron Reid - Federation of Ontario Naturalists

For over a decade now, the government of Ontario, prodded onwards by conservation groups, has been trying to arrive at a workable plan to protect the natural features of the Niagara Escarpment, while recognizing the needs of private landowners. Two years ago, a suitable compromise had almost been reached, with the release of the Niagara Escarpment Commission's scaled-down proposed plan. But after a lengthy review by a trio of provincially-appointed hearing officers, it appears that any sort of balanced approach to escarpment planning has been abandoned.

In their four-volume report, the hearing officers put themselves squarely on the side of vested interests. With few exceptions, the recommendations of individual landowners are ignored, unless they are backed by the local municipality. The opinions of conservation groups in the support of the plan were discounted even more, since they had no financial interest in the lands in question. The same response didn't apply to those with money at stake, however. Three local issues dominated much of the hearings-proposals for a gravel pit near Fonthill, a quarry at with the intentions of the escarpment plan, the hearing officers approved all three.

For the most part, the hearings officers took the easy way out, by accepting without question the recommendations of local municipalities. Notably, they refused to endorse the recommendations of several municipalities, such as Halton and Burlington, who recommended more stringent protection of some natural areas. They did accept dozens of proposed deletions from the plan and changes to more liberal designations, even in some cases where individual landowners had opposed such downgrading. For good measure, the hearing officers also would allow more new lots and new houses in natural areas, and new subdivisions on the "protected" slopes. Finally, they suggest that the province hand over the implementation responsibility for the final plan to local municipalities, with no provision at all for provincial oversight.

The provincial government has not yet accepted the results of this review, and it will no doubt become the centre of much controversy before some resolution is reached. But for those who seek to preserve the beauty and the diversity of Ontario's countryside, this report can only serve as an example of monumental short-sightedness and apathy. It belongs on the same scrap-heap as such boondoggles as the Spadina Expressway and the Pickering airport.

Juveniles will play Thornton

The Minden Monarchs Juveniles open the O.M.H.A. Juvenile D quarter-finals in Minden this Friday evening as they host the Thornton juveniles. Thornton has just eliminated Creemore from the championship hunt and will be in Minden for game one, beginning at 9 p.m., February 25.

The series is expected to be a best three out of five as only three weeks has been allotted for this All-Ontario Juvenile D quarter-final tilt.

Game two is slated for Thornton on Sunday, February 27 at 3 p.m. A bus will be leaving the Municipal Offices at 11:45 a.m.

It's hoped that many fans will be on hand to watch the Monarchs in their home opener Friday night. Home town support is very important if the Juveniles hope to continue on to a championship.

In related hockey action, Minden's season nemesis, the Powassan North Stars, lost in the opening playoff round to the Elmvalle Juveniles.

Also, remember the dance at the Community Centre Saturday night, February 26, in aid of travelling expenses during the hockey team's playoff quest.

See you at the arena, Friday night, 9 p.m.

Doug Pearson, of Hall's Insurance tries to block a drive in Monday night's playoff game. Home Hardware won the game 7-2 and will meet Hartwick Construction in the finals.

Snowdon residents study drug abuse

Parents in the Snowdon township area are obviously concerned with the use of illegal drugs by their children. They showed their concern by attending a special information night sponsored by the Snowdon Supporters at the Lochlin Community Centre Friday evening.

The group was addressed by O.P.P. representatives, Corporal Bryan Holnbeck and Constable Gary Chapman.

Corporal Holnbeck noting that although he had not been with the Minden detachment for long, said "personally, I don't think it is a big problem." He said his last posting in Kingston brought him into contact with drug related incidents far more than in Haliburton County.

Constable Chapman concurred, saying there is more of a "drug culture" in Haliburton than in Minden. He continued revealing police know most of the participants within this culture.

One member of the audience suggested short films be placed in arcades and other hangouts for young people in which the effects of drug abuse are clearly shown.

Chapman said films were not a great deterrent to abusers. He said experiments with films showed cigarette smokers are momentarily startled by scenes of cancer victims but are not impressed enough to quit their habit. The same goes for alcohol abusers.

Another parent asked whether the officers thought the sentences handed out in the courts were stiff enough. Chapman said "policemen never comment on sentences," but with a smile added, "a judge in Lindsay is harsh on drug offenders when in school related circumstances."

One woman expressed concern about her young daughter in kindergarten. She said children in the class had brought cigarettes to school and wondered when drugs were going to be introduced to her child.

Holnbeck said he believed children should be educated on the effects of drugs in Grades earlier than the present system covers.

The officers said the drug problem is more pronounced in the summertime. They suggested the influx of cottagers was partly responsible, "certainly with the soft drugs."

One statement pleased parents in the Community Centre. Chapman said drug abuse in the County was not on the upswing. "I'd say the opposite." He said the current recession and the tight money situation probably affected abuse.

Corporal Bryan Holnbeck points to a photo illustrating the height marijuana plants can attain. The plants were grown on Harburn Road in Dysart township two feet higher than the man in the picture. Holnbeck and Constable Gary Chapman gave a seminar for the Snowdon Supporters Friday night at Lochlin Community Centre.

Publisher plans second newspaper

A new newspaper serving the Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon area will begin publication next week, the publisher of the Minden Times, Jack Brezina has announced.

The newspaper, known as the North Kawartha Times, will publish its first issue March 2. The new publication will be owned and operated by Mr. Brezina.

"While the newspaper will share production facilities with the Minden Times, it will be a completely separate operation," Brezina stated. He noted that the newspaper will have its own editorial and sales staff. Alex Riddell, a former reporter with the Brampton Guardian will head the editorial department while Sue Stewart, a resident of Fenelon Falls and known to many people in the Highlands through her association with the Highlands Jewellery and China Shoppe, will be the sales representative.

The newspaper will be similar in many ways to the Minden Times in that it will be tabloid size and appear weekly on Wednesdays. The North Kawartha Times will also become involved in the communities it serves, reporting on political, social, sports and human interest stories of interest to the readers of the area.

"The opening of this new newspaper has been 'in the works' for a number of months," Brezina commented. "It is an exciting and interesting process," the publisher commented.

Copies of the new newspaper will be available through the Minden Times office March 2.

Bridge hearing decision expected

The expropriation hearing involving the single lane steel bridge at Ingoldsby continued for two days, February 17 and 18.

In a long and confused cross examination of County Engineer Bill Obee, Joseph Curtin, acting as legal counsel for his wife and himself, made known his concerns on the proposed replacement bridge.

Curtin's major complaints concerned the possibility of blockage of the safe boat passage on the east side due to the nature of the construction, the lowering of the soffit of the bridge making passage by large water craft dangerous or impossible and plans failing to eliminate some of the sharp curves near the bridge.

Also during his questioning of Obee, he discovered that the engineer did not have approval for the bridge from Transport Canada. Obee replied he was sure the consultant for the project, Greer Galloway, had permission or they would not be making plans for the replacement bridge.

Obee repeated he did not see any problem with the abutments of the bridge and that they would not block the channel. He also replied to Curtin's concern with the height of the bridge, saying he had had no complaints from the owner of one of the largest vessels on Canning Lake. Finally, Obee said the construction of the two lane bridge and the subsequent upgrading of the road leading to and from the Narrows would limit danger from the curves.

Obee added that a study recording the amount of traffic on the bridge indicated a need for the upgraded structure.

The decision by hearing officer James Webster will be handed down in two weeks time.

County council briefs

Items from the February meeting of Haliburton County Council.

An Anson, Hindon and Minden request for unemployment figures for the county as a whole and for individual townships has been denied by the Peterborough office of Employment and Immigration.

E.G. Staub, the manager of the office wrote to county council explaining that "individual unemployment insurance statistic breakdowns" are not available under the current system. He suggested that statistics may be available by postal code.

Home Support Services

Haliburton County Home Support Services chairman, Ivan Hunter, approached county council for a $1,500 grant at the February 16 meeting.

Hunter explained the support group works to help seniors remain in their homes as long as possible. They also visit, phone and try to make the seniors feel a part of the community. Hunter also said the 300 volunteers in the organization are available in case of emergencies to their various charges.

Hunter added that of Haliburton County's population, over 33% are seniors and there are "more moving in all the time".

County coin

Committee of Management chairman, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey related more information on the Haliburton County trade dollar. The trade dollar, to be commissioned to celebrate the county's ascension to full county status will be distributed by the Chamber of Commerce.

If the Chamber looks after the dollar 75% of the profits will go to the organization, "a little incentive" said Fearrey.

Fearrey said each trade dollar costs approximately 50¢ to make.

Forest Management chairman, Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer revealed during his report to council he contacted Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott to ask him to contact two technically advanced countries including Germany to discover their attitudes toward locating lumber industry plants here. He said a $500 account for ads in European trade papers may be a good way to elicit reaction.

In related discussion, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey asked Stouffer about the lack of a county-wide tree cutting bylaw similar to Dysart et al's. Fearrey said that 60 per cent of the county was under the bylaw and wondered about the delay for a county proposal.

Stouffer admitted the county could have "possibly hesitated a bit". He said the "wording could be improved" and suggested that Dysart's forester be questioned on the viability of enforcing the bylaw after a year's time.

Apply for program

County engineer Bill Obee said the county will apply for the summer student program. He said likely projects would include a beaver dam survey, a boat traffic survey and a start on sifting through data to begin a history of the county.

Driver Ed. fee will increase

Students taking driver education at the high school will have to bear a greater share of the cost of the program in September.

A resolution covering the increase in fees was approved at the February 14 meeting of the Board of Education.

According to an investigation carried out by the board, the cost of the program was estimated at $118 per student. At the moment the students contribute $50 toward the cost. The board has decided that the portion paid by the students should rise to 75% of the cost, representing a charge of $88.50.

The suggestion that the students should be responsible for the entire cost of the lessons was rejected by the board as it was felt the driver education was an integral part of their education. However, adults who take the classes will be required to pay the entire fee. Adults previously contributed $75 towards the cost of the driver education classes.

The new fee schedule will come in effect September 1, 1983.

Dairy industry hears outlook

Mr. Ken McKinnon, Chairman of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, was the guest speaker at the recent annual meeting of the Victoria County milk producers. Mr. McKinnon, a dairy farmer from Bruce County, gave an excellent outline of the current situation in the dairy industry on a world-wide basis and related this to current situations in Ontario.

The overproduction of milk in both the U.S. and in the European Economic Community has produced a glut of dairy products making any Canadian exports extremely difficult to achieve and has depressed the world prices for milk products. This has resulted in reductions in market share quotas for Canadian dairymen and the current high demand for any quota available for sale, has put the price of quota up to record levels.

Ken McKinnon stressed there are three things which dairy farmers should not cut back on at this time. These are participating in milk recording programs, participating in a herd health program and feeding the cows well, so they will produce at their potential.

Milk recording programs include both ROP and DHI - at the moment any farmers not on a recording program can get on the DHI program, at least as an owner-sampler.

The somatic cell count report which every dairyman receives monthly, is an effective guide to the incidence of mastitis in a herd. Any farmer which counts over 300,000 should be discussing this with their veterinarian to prevent serious udder problems.

When a cow isn't being fed properly, the cost of producing a unit of milk goes up. Ken stated every dairy farmer should be testing his hay, haylage and corn silage each year, then getting a balanced ration prepared based on those tests.

Every dairy farmer can easily follow Ken McKinnon's advice on all three points. Any dairy producer needing more information or assistance should call their County Agricultural Office.

Central Ontario will be held in Cambray on Wednesday and Thursday, March 9 and 10. This is the first time a program of this sort has been planned for this area. The Fenelon Township Community Centre in Cambray will be the location.

Forty-five agricultural businesses will be exhibiting in the show. This includes seed, feed, fertilizer, machinery, banks, insurance, herd health and safety.

The Farm Show will be open from 10:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 9 and from 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 10.

Each afternoon there will be a short program starting at 1:30 with a featured Guest Speaker. On Wednesday, the Guest Speaker will be Mr. Dave Pelletterio, P. Ag., from the U.C.O. in Mississauga, speaking on the subject "1983 Agricultural Outlook". The special speaker on Thursday will be Dr. Bob Sheard, from the Land Resource Science Department, University of Guelph, speaking on "Red Clover Plowdown".

A light lunch will be available each day. All area farmers are invited to attend.

Eakins upset over support for municipalities

John Eakins, M.P.P. has said that the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing seems to be oblivious to the terms of his government's restraint program, and completely out of touch with respect to the needs of Ontario's municipalities.

"By only providing municipalities with a 4.3 per cent increase in unconditional grants, he is pinning local councillors against the wall as they struggle to keep property tax raises at 6 per cent," Eakins said.

"Of course, the other increases referred to in his statement are irrelevant: increases in per capita and conditional transfer payments are meaningless unless the level of funding is changed."

"It is difficult to believe that the Minister would deny a 6 per cent increase over last year's levels to our local governments, particularly in view of the massive increases in OHIP premiums and the new sales tax provisions imposed on these governments in the Treasurer's May 13 budget. That the Minister expects councils to cope with 20 per cent of the cost of our bulging welfare rolls after its net increase in 1982 payments was reduced by 30 per cent (when the infamous provincial budget was announced) is incomprehensible," Eakins added.

"To add insult to injury, the Minister implies that his officials have developed a new method of determining municipal transfer payments. Once again, the Association of Municipalities of Ontario is only being brought in at the end of the process."

"Increasing responsibility is being passed on to municipalities, and therefore the taxpayer, to raise taxation for both their own needs and for remittance to the province."

"The arrogance that has been displayed by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing in providing municipalities with a 4.3 per cent increase in unconditional grants is just not acceptable," Eakins said.

Minden W.I.

There was a very informative and interesting speaker at the Women's Institute meeting on February 16 at the Common Room of the Library Cultural Centre. He was introduced by Mrs. D. Berry, Convenor of Family and Consumer Affairs, in the person of Harold Parker of Georgian Bay Regional Hydro out of Barrie. He gave a slide presentation on energy management. After this showing, there was a question and answer period with Mr. Parker showing his expertise. Mrs. C. Wilson presented him with a small gift in our appreciation of an excellent hour.

The meeting continued with the usual report with Mrs. W. Moore, first V.P. in charge. She also gave the report of 13 cards sent since the last meeting. Collections were taken for this fund and Pennies for Friendship.

Seventeen members and 3 guests were present. Plans for the Annual Bus Trip were left over to the next meeting. The Achievement Day for the Quilting Course is to be March 16th (our regular date). The ladies agreed to put the March Meeting on the 23rd at this same place and thus the Quilt Group may go to Fenelon Falls on the first date.

The small articles which had been turned in, will be auctioned or sold at the next meeting.

After the adjournment, a social time followed and all enjoyed the delicious lunch served by the committee.

Dear Readers: Each week I try my very best to tell you what is happening at Hyland Crest. But I get discouraged and tell my wife I'll quit. You can't please everyone, so to heck with it. But God doesn't like a quitter. I don't know why I'm feeling just a little bitter. I'll write a letter that will either knock 'em cold or one to bring a little smile to both young and old.

We are sorry the Burgess family are down with the "flu", couldn't take the service Sunday night and were feeling rather blue. Well you need not have worried John, the Thompsons did just fine. We enjoyed the service and had a social time.

Della Curry's son came and took her for a drive. Winnie Johnson's son came too, by the way, a visit from a son just makes a mother's day. There may be others that we don't know about, there's always someone coming in and some one going out. We were sorry to learn of the death of Helen Lee's brother, our sympathy to Helen and relatives.

The movies Monday night were grand, our heritage was the wild land, but what gave us a thrill was the fine work a woman was doing with porcupine quills.

Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church who lives just across the way, conducted a nice service in the chapel Tuesday. Agnes Taylor is ill and couldn't come to play so Doris filled in and did a good job by the way.

Tuesday night the Watson Trio came and entertained us fine, the music was good and we had a jolly time. Russell Robertson got up and danced a merry jig which gave us all a thrill, when they play fast music, he just can't sit still.

Wednesday afternoon "The Happy Wanderers" wandered up from Coboconk and came quietly in to Hyland Crest, their car horns didn't honk. They sang "We are the Happy Wanderers from down by the railroad track". If you treat us really well, some day we'll come back. They entertained us for an hour or more. They sang "Oh Canada", "Bless This House" and "How Great Thou Art", "Whispering Hope & Snow Bird" and other good old songs and some we hadn't heard.

Thursday afternoon the Salvation Army ladies from Haliburton served us lunch. It was a dreary day. They led us in a sing song & closed with a prayer, before they went away. The Army does a grand job, yes they do indeed, they are always there wherever there is a need.

Jessie Walters is in hospital, what is the matter seems to be a riddle. Ruby Lewis is quite a gadabout, she just gets settled in when her family takes her out.

Linda is having trouble with her teeth and is on a liquid diet, it is our sincere wish that she will soon be eating beefsteak and fish.

Friday was such a lovely day, Grace Coburn came to lead the singing and Fred Ballard came to play. They entertained us for an hour with music and song. We are always glad to see this couple come along.

The teacher asked the class to write a composition containing the words, defeat, defence and detail. One boy wrote, "defeat of the cat went over defence before detail."

Farm News & Views

The Victoria County Community Pasture Committee is now accepting applications for the 1983 pasture year. Deadline is Friday, March 4 at the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Producers may apply for grazing rights for yearling steers and heifers not under 350 lbs. and not over 750 lbs. as of May 1.

Anyone wishing to sell their cattle in one of the fall feeder sales in the area may apply for early roundup.

The cost this year is unchanged at twenty cents per pound gain with a minimum charge of $40.00 per head for the grazing season.

All animals consigned must be vaccinated for black leg and malignant edema before April 1.

Heifers must be either from a brucellosis free listed herd or a herd of negative brucellosis status.

Anyone pasturing cattle on the farm in 1982 will receive an application in the mail. For other interested producers, application forms are available at the Lindsay Agricultural Office. A copy of the rules and regulations is also available.

Pork proficiency program

The Victoria County Pork Producers Association is sponsoring a pork proficiency program for county producers in 1983.

The program is designed to improve the number of pigs marketed per sow per year by a producer. It is also aimed at improving the quality of pigs marketed in Victoria County.

The pork proficiency program is set up as a competition.

The first part of the competition is open to producers with farrowing operations and sell over 50% of their production as weaners. There are three categories. Category 1 is for producers with 10 - 50 sows, category 2 for producers with 51 to 100 sows, and category 3 is for producers with over 100 sows. Participants must complete a "Pigs Marketed Per Sow Per Year" record form for the calendar year, January 31 to December 31, 1983. This form is available at the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

The second part of the competition is open to pork producers finishing their own pigs or producers finishing purchased weaners. Category 1 is for producers marketing 100 - 500 pigs per year, category 2 is for producing marketing 501-1000 pigs per year, and category 3 includes producers marketing over 1000 pigs per year.

Participants will include their Ontario Pork Producers Marketing Board Market Index Summary with entry.

County winners in each category will be recognized at the annual meeting of the Victoria County Pork Producers Association in 1984.

Anyone interested in the pork proficiency program should contact the Lindsay Agricultural office by Tuesday, March 15. More information concerning the rules and regulations is available.

Last week, Wednesday to be exact, my father and I celebrated my birthday at the Fireside Restaurant. Not only is the food delicious, but the proprietors, Helen and Gunther are most affable and congenial. I wholeheartedly recommend their restaurant for your dining pleasure.

The condition of road from 35 to Minden is at present atrocious. It is slippery, deeply rutted and with trucks carrying propane gas, could cause a collision and terrible fire. There are no slow signs or reduce speed in evidence. One day, several weeks ago, it was raining and with the slippery conditions, there were 2 cars and a truck in the ditch, and something like 15 cars all across the road. Surely something can be done to alleviate this hazard.

Please keep in mind the delicious Easter Eggs the ladies of the ACW are again featuring. These delicious confections sell for $1.25 and may be ordered through Linda Elliott at 286-1817 or Barb Fawcett at 754-3161.

St. Paul's is presently planning a women's breakfast. The tentative date is Sunday, March 20, at 8:00 a.m. It will begin with a service of Holy Communion and then proceed downstairs for a breakfast prepared by the men. Do circle your calendar and join us for a morning of fellowship and food.

I hope to see many of you at the ACW meeting on March 8, at St. Paul's Parish, for the demonstration in Acrylics. The painting will be raffled off at the end of the meeting, the proceeds will go to the ACW.

On Saturday, on CFMX-FM I thoroughly enjoyed the rendition of Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky's Polish Symphony, Number 3, conducted by Leonard Bernstein, one of my very favorite conductors. When I was at Tanglewood, Mass. one summer, Leonard was the protege of Serge Koussevitzky, director of the Boston Symphony. This was the beginning of his fantastic rise to fame. I will be interviewed on CFMX on Saturday, March 19th during their matinee, after which I will attend a concert at St. George's United Church in Peterborough, featuring Montreal born Richard Gresh, who will present an all Chopin - Rachmaninoff performance. The program will take place at 8:15 p.m. Tickets for the concert are - for preferred seats, $7.00, seats at $6.00 and for students, $4.00. Anyone wishing to attend the concert may contact me at 286-2539.

I am sorry to report the deaths of Mrs. Cora Sawyer of West Guilford, and Mrs. Ann Symonds also of West Guilford, last week. Our deepest sympathy to their families.

Petty Officer Dennis Moore and his wife Sandra visited with his parents, the Bill Moores and other relatives over the weekend.

On Wednesday the library will feature 200 books on different selections in the book exchange for the Western part of Haliburton. I am sure many of you will find something to interest you in this assortment.

Mrs. Kathryn Daniel celebrated her birthday last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irene Miles. Mrs. Daniel is 98 years young, and we join in wishing her a happy birthday and many more. God bless her!

The winners of the St. Paul's mini-card party are as follows: cribbage, Diane Stevens, euchre - lone hands, Carol Francis (on a cut) high-Ryeta Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Porter and sons visited with his mother, Mrs. Lillian Porter over the weekend.

Bradley Robinson of Scarborough, visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Philip Robinson over the weekend.

A lovely baby shower was given by Mrs. Velma Stevenson, her daughter Judy and granddaughter Sheila at the home for Mrs. Danny McKelvey. 24 ladies attended the shower. Those of the family present were Mrs. Unice Wright, Mrs. Blanche Wright, Mrs. Audrey Trumbull, and daughter June, Mrs. Mary McKelvey, and her daughter Pearl. The rest were very good friends of Debbie. She received many beautiful gifts. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith McIntosh of Oshawa, visited with their families over the past weekend.

Mr. John Fountain, accompanied by his mother Audrey and friend Daryl, his father David Bell and Lora Patton, all of Maple Lake, attended the Liberty Bowl on Sunday at Bowmanville.

I am happy to report that Mrs. Ken Fountain is now at home following a bout with surgery in Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay, and is convalescing nicely. All her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Word has been received that Irvin Walker of Newmarket is presently confined to Sunnybrook Hospital. We all wish him well.

For my friend Irwin Karnick, we shall have to repent in this generation not so much for the evil deeds of the wicked people but for the appalling silence of the good people. Martin Luther King.

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes heard that the Ontario Medical Association has considered his concern with a possible connection between fluorescent lighting and skin cancer, and that they have decided to request the government to initiate research into this problem as requested by the doctor.

It looks like we will have an early spring. The bears, squirrels and chipmunks are already in evidence, and I guess if we have doubts about God, we have only to look around us to know that He is still in His heaven - the beauty of the universe. If only we mortals would heed, it would be Paradise indeed! God bless you all.

A Question

Pray tell me, have we met before
On some far distant street
Within the city of desire
Where only best friends meet?
Or did you take me by the hand
To show to me that golden strand
That frames a lake of deepest blue?
It seems to me we were there too.
Could we have met somewhere in space
And seen the cosmos face to face?
Or in some verdant, leafy glen?
I cannot quite remember when.
But now I think of it 'tis true
I really do remember you,
Another age, another shore
I know that we have met before.
Another time, another place
I know the wonder of your face,
So as our paths through time shall wend
I give my hand to you, my friend.

The following is a list of books now available for your reading pleasure at the Minden Public Library.

Juvenile Fiction

Title: Super Bike. Author: Jamie Brown.

In this story Neil Hackett, a 17 year old boy, is in a slump, low marks and having a hard time with his girl friend and his mother and new step-father. After buying a Ducati 900 racing motor cycle there is a change. Interesting and fast-moving story for the young reader.

Juvenile Non-Fiction

Title: Letterbox. Author: J. Adkins.

If you have ever wondered from where our alphabet came, then read this book. It explains the earliest picture writing and how this came to us through the Egyptians, Romans, Greeks, Chinese, etc. Various lettering is also shown.

Adult Fiction

Title: The Almighty. Author: Irving Wallace.

Irving Wallace, one of the five most widely read authors in the world today, has written a stirring novel about a man so obsessed with power that he is driven to a terrorizing, terrifying manipulation of people, news headlines, and world events. And it's about the deadly game the man known as The Almighty is playing.

Edward Armstead has lived much of his life in the shadow of his famous media lord father. When his father dies, he leaves a will that makes it almost impossible for Edward to keep the thing he wants most - control of a powerful newspaper, the centre of the Armstead empire. Edward's determination to exceed his father drives him to embark on two obsessive quests - to make the New York Record the number one newspaper in America at any cost, and to make his father's young mistress his lover. In a swiftly-paced story, reaching out of Manhattan into the inner circles of power in England, France, Spain, Switzerland, and Israel, a growing wave of violence gives the publisher sensational headlines, exclusive to the Record, that turn Armstead into a media legend. Since Irving Wallace's many bestsellers, this is another blockbuster.

Adult Non-Fiction

Title: Off Camera. Author: Leonard Probst.

Leonard Probst is a drama critic who has talked with some of the world's greatest stars, such as Al Pacino, Woody Allen and Barbara Walters.

The stars tell of their problems of identity, facing the audience and how they survive in their competitive world.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Roy Loucks wish to extend sincere thanks to all who shared in our sorrow. Those who sent flowers, food, cards and gifts, also donations to the Cancer Society. To Gordon Monk Funeral Home and the Reverend John James for his message of comfort, to Dr. Curtis and Princess Margaret Hospital nurses for their care over the years.

May God bless you all.
Margaret Loucks & family

Thank you to all who so thoughtfully called, wrote, sent cards, flowers and gifts to welcome Emily. Special thanks to Emily's grandmother (Shirley Brandon) - just couldn't have managed as well without your help and constant support.
